Respeggt wins the German Sustainability Award 2025 in the "Products / Value Chain" category

Respeggt is extremely proud to have been awarded the German Sustainability Award 2025 in the "Products / Value Chain" category. This award recognizes companies that pursue innovative approaches to make their industry's value chain more ethical and sustainable. For Respeggt, this award is proof that we are on the right track combining constant innovation with a system to help pay for animal welfare.

Edwin Zeller, Chief Commercial Officer at Respeggt, says: "This award is a wonderful recognition. We are proud to contribute positively to animal welfare and to create a viable business model throughout the entire supply chain. We would like to thank everyone who believes in Respeggt's vision and has supported and accompanied us over the past five years. This success would not have been possible without the cooperation and trust of our dedicated team, partners, customers and supporters across Europe."

Respeggt: technology provider for in-ovo sexing and service company for Supply Chain Verification

Respeggt's technology has developed into a state-of-the-art process that is easy to use and achieves over 99.5% accuracy. This technology contributes to the hatching of more than one million female chicks every month without the needless culling of male chicks. Machines have been installed across several European countries. The early procedure enables PCR testing between the 8th and 12th day of incubation, ensuring compliance with German legislation and analysis before the onset of brain activity in the embryo.

Also making Respeggt a worthy winner in the value chain category is its second product, the Supply Chain Verification (SCV). This control system ensures that the added value 'Free of Chick Culling' can be guaranteed to consumers. This service not only helps consumers make better choices at the point of sale (POS), but also supports the industry's goal to end chick culling successfully. Today, the SCV can be recognized by the heart-shaped Respeggt label on egg packaging and foodstuffs in over 6,000 supermarkets.
